FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION TO CLEAN HOUSE IMMEDIATELY

Letters Discovered Show a Leak in Official Files at Washington

PROBE WILL FIND HOW FAR SLUSH FUND GOES

Believe Evidence Will Prove Buying Ring of 'Big Five' Meat Packers

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—An "immediate house cleaning," by the federal trade commission to check further "leaks" of important information is to be undertaken.

One official, at least, is already slated to go.

Letters just unearthed in private files of Chicago meat packers during the progress of the commission's investigation show packers in August, 1916, obtained from secret files of the commission copy of a complaint of Representative Doolittle, Kansas, urging a probe of the packing houses.

R. G. McManus, special packer attorney, then in Washington, wrote Henry Veeder, personal secretary to J. Ogden Armour:

"Complaints filed with the federal trade commission are privileged and not available to the public. However, herewith is the Doolittle complaint."

Veeder, questioned by Special Investigator Twombly, when he discovered this letter, is believed to have named the official responsible for the leak. Careful internal grooming of the entire commission staff was expected to discover just how far "slush funds" may have seeped through into the personnel.

Hearings in the packing house probe were to be continued early today with further sensational developments in the congressional lobby.

Heney Figures as Counsel
Additional evidence tending to prove the existence of a gigantic buying combine, including all of the "big five" packers, will be submitted by Francis J. Heney, the commission's counsel. Private correspondence, memoranda and records from the packers' private offices, are expected to disclose how the packers pooled their daily purchases and divided the animals on a prearranged percentage basis.

Revelations along this line, it was forecast, will show the "big five" buyers were instructed to let speculators and independents "lead off" in the early morning buying.

Correspondence laying bare the pace setting scheme that packer representatives later might "break" the market probably also will lend further support to Heney's contention that the packers were in complete control of market prices at all times.

Backfire from the federal trade commission probe today drew from members of Congress a demand to contradict evidence placing them under suspicion.

Senator Thompson, Kansas, appeared at the commission hearing this morning and requested that he be sworn as a witness to show that he was not guilty of working in packers' interests.

Other representatives and senators voiced a desire to reply to damaging telegrams introduced by Chief Investigator Francis J. Heney.

INJURED MAN FORMER OFFICER AT PRESIDIO

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28.—Major Kenyon A. Joyce, reported injured in France, then a first lieutenant, in the Sixth cavalry, was stationed at the Presidio of San Francisco during the exposition. During that period he helped to train a so-called "millionaire's cavalry troops" organized by Thorne Wall Mullaly, now colonel of the Grizzlies.

HAM SANDWICH BANNED
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28.—Ham sandwiches are not exempt from the operation of porkless days, State Food Administrator Merritt ruled today.

N. Y. STOCK EXCHANGE CLOSED
NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—The New York stock exchange was closed, observing the second of Garfield's porkless Mondays.

SAMMY CARRIES OUT ORDERS REGARDLESS OF WHERE THEY HIT

BY J. W. PEGLER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Jan. 28.—Orders are orders—and a mere two or three silver stars shining on a general's shoulders do not make any difference to a Sammy if the wearers of those stars aren't playing the game according to the rules.

Two of the most valuable general officers of the entire American expeditionary force—one an acting lieutenant general and the other a major general commanding the militia division—would be in the hospital today with bayonet wounds in their tummies if they hadn't stopped violating a Boston Sammy's instructions.

During a moonlight maneuver on a certain recent night the two generals directing the movement started to walk along toward the middle of a long trench line in which thousands of Sammys were massed, waiting signals to go over the top. Nobody was permitted to walk on the parapet or in "sight of the enemy."

Out of Trench
One of the generals was too big to find comfort in the narrow trenches and the other loathed the idea of mud on his polished riding boots. So both of them walked on the parapet.

"Get down from that parapet and walk in the trench!" barked a non-commissioned centry standing in the trench.

"It's all right; we are generals," said the respassers.

"I don't give a damn if you are President Wilson," yelled the sentry—and the generals saw his shadowy form lunge toward them with a gleaming bayonet.

The two generals jumped into the trench in time to avoid being stabbed. Their troubles were not yet over. The Sammy had a suspicion they were spies.

Demands Password
"Give me the password!" he demanded, curtly.

The division commander attempted to remonstrate over "inconsiderate treatment," but the sentry's bayonet flashed and the generals backed up a few hasty steps, calling with alarm the password, "Paris, Paris, Paris!"

All night long on this night, machine guns arrayed three yards apart along that line barraged the "enemy's" rear. Star shells floated to the earth, making pale even the brilliance of the silver moonlight.

Exactly at dawn the militiamen went over the top. They conquered their objectives.

One colonel, demonstrating his complete confidence in his machine gunner's accuracy, spent half an hour calmly walking around under a veritable roof of machine gun bullets snarling overhead in a barrage fire.

The lieutenant general and the major general heard the explanation that the sentry merely obeyed orders.

NEW SNOW STORM ON SECOND 'HEATLESS HOLIDAY' IN EAST

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—With thousands of business houses closed throughout the country today—the second "heatless holiday"—snow and cold swept the eastern seaboard, clogging freight.

The heaviest snowfall of the winter hit this section—six inches by 7 o'clock—stopping street cars and all other traffic.

The railroad administration was again considering new measures to cope with the increasing congestion caused by a revival of the cold and snow throughout the east.

Passenger trains are being taken off at some points, embargoes on unnecessary freight are in voluntary effect on most of the eastern lines and official embargoes, ordered last week, will be continued until the present disturbance is over.

WOMAN'S DEATH CAUSE NOT YET DETERMINED

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28.—Whether Mrs. Carrie E. Fenchurch, wife of E. J. Fenchurch of Tucson, Ariz., died accidentally or through her own act was still unsolved today. Mrs. Fenchurch fell from the window of a hotel here while her husband was in an adjoining room. Death was instantaneous. Fenchurch is assistant general passenger and freight agent of the Arizona & Eastern Railway.

HAIG REPORTS THREE TOMMIES AS MISSING

LONDON, Jan. 28.—Three British soldiers were missing after an enemy raid on an advanced post northeast of the Langemarck yesterday evening. Field Marshal Haig reported today.

Around Leverguier stray hostile reconnoitering parties were dispersed by fire at night. Southwest of Cambrai and north of the Lens-Paschendale sector, hostile artillery was reported active.

PAPER CALLS KAISER 'GERMANY'S HANGMAN'

AMSTERDAM, Jan. 28.—Open demand that the German people revolt "to save themselves" and reference to the Kaiser as "Germany's hangman" was made by the Deutsche Tages Zeitung in copies of that paper received here today.

200 PASSENGERS OF TORPEDOED LINER ON SHORES OF IRELAND

A COAST TOWN IN THE COUNTY OF ANTRIM, Ireland, Jan. 28.—More than 200 passengers and members of the crew of the Cunard liner Andania were landed here Sunday afternoon. Most of the crew were in a pitiable condition. Some were clad lightly and had suffered severely from their exposure in the lifeboats. Many were wrapped in blankets. Two babies were carried ashore by the sailors.

It was reported here that the explosion of the second torpedo had killed five stokers. Rescue of so large a number was explained from the fact that at the moment of the attack the submarine which hit the Andania was twice seen, once twenty yards distant and again fifty.

MAY SAVE LINER INTACT, BELIEF

LONDON, Jan. 28.—The Cunarder Andania, southbound, torpedoed Sunday morning off Ulster, probably will be saved intact, according to word received today.

It was believed all her passengers and crew had been saved.

Two torpedoes were fired at the vessel. The first missed. The second struck amidships. Passengers and crew took to the boats.

PASSENGER SHIP HIT DURING SNOWSTORM

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Struck in a snowstorm off the Delaware Capes, the Southern Pacific liner Creole, with 136 passengers aboard, had a hole torn in her side. She was barely able to limp back to this port, under her own steam. The ship is in dock here today, being repaired.

The vessel which struck the Creole was understood to have reached port within the capes under her own power.

RENEWED ACTION FOR SAMMIES BELIEVED TO BE NEARING

Report of Accident to Gen. Wood and Other Soldiers Strengthens Claim

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—That a fresh announcement of American participation in actual battling will be forthcoming soon, was the belief of many here today.

This thought was strengthened by the fact that several infantrymen the past week have been reported killed or wounded "in action," while Major General Leonard Wood has been hurt by an accidental explosion in France.

PARTICULARS OF INJURY TO OFFICERS NOT GIVEN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Major General Leonard Wood was wounded yesterday in France.

He was the victim of an accidental explosion. One arm was slightly injured.

Announcement of the accident was made last night by the secretary of war.

Lieutenant Colonel Charles E. Kilbourne and Major Kenyon A. Joyce also were injured. Colonel Kilbourne received a wound in the eye and Major Joyce's arm was hurt.

Five French soldiers were killed outright.

Secretary Baker has cabled General Pershing for full details. The War Department statement follows:

"A cable dispatch from the headquarters of General Pershing, just received, stated that an accidental explosion occurring yesterday, killed five French soldiers and injured Major General Leonard Wood slightly in the arm, Lieutenant Colonel Charles E. Kilbourne in the eye, and Major Kenyon A. Joyce in the arm."

In France Some Time

General Wood has been in France for some time. The information obtained from army authorities said that General Wood with other officers had gone to France to study conditions for possible service with the American expeditionary forces.

General Wood has been recognized the world over as one of the outstanding figures in American army circles. He was the greatest advocate of universal training when the agitation for preparedness was in its incipency. When in command of the Department of the East he devoted much time and energy to the Plattsburg training camp.

The major general was one of the chief critics of the War Department. In widely published speeches, General Wood assailed the Government for its lack of interest to meet what he considered the impending military crisis. He wanted the administration to wake up.

The general was called on for an explanation of his action in permitting Colonel Roosevelt to criticize the Government in a speech to the men at Plattsburg.

Shortly thereafter the Department of the East, of which General Wood was in command, was divided into three sections, the Department of the East, the Department of the Northeast and the Department of the Southeast. General Wood was removed from the command of the most important of the military departments and sent south. He assumed command of the Department of the Southeast with headquarters at Charleston, S. C.

Did Good Work at Camp
Subsequently he was relieved of command of this department. His transfer then was to Camp Funston, Kansas.

GERMAN LABOR HAS WHIP HAND OVER KAISER IN DEMANDS

Ultimatum to Be Issued May Exert Wide Influence in Settling Social Unrest

BY GEORGE MARTIN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—An outline of revolutionary demands to be made on the Kaiser's government, by German labor, which reached the American Government today, shows that they are asking more of the despot than American labor has asked of its democracy.

This program may play an important part in settlement of the social unrest among the people in the Austro-German empires if they get the whip-hand as a result of the social upheaval reported under way there.

The program provides for an eight-hour day and a six-day week. It prohibits all Sunday work except that absolutely necessary and provides for a day of rest during the week for Sunday workers. It prohibits night work except "in a few cases where it is absolutely necessary and which can be determined by law."

Restrict Woman Labor

Women must not work more than eight hours a day, five days a week and not more than four hours on Sundays or other days preceding holidays. They must not be given work to take home with them.

The employment of women under this plan would be absolutely prohibited at night on Sundays and holidays, on work which is damaging to health and for six weeks prior to child birth, for twenty-six weeks thereafter and during the next twenty-six weeks they may work only four hours a day.

No child under 15 could be employed in any kind of work. Those between 15 and 18 may not work more than six hours a day and these may not be employed at night, on Sundays or holidays in mines or on work dangerous to health.

Inspector to Enforce Law

Enforcement of the laws protecting labor in this way would be in the hands of inspectors chosen by the laborers themselves. Only women inspectors would be permitted to inspect and pass on women's working conditions.

"The right to strike," says the plea, "must be freed from all restrictions and conceded without restrictions to all sections of the population."

Every place employing more than twenty persons must provide for a committee from the employees to have a voice in the treatment of the workers in the place by the employers. This committee would have a vote as powerful as that of the employers.

Workers' interests would be protected in all government departments by fully authorized committees named from their membership by the workers themselves.

Government Insurance

Insurance which will guarantee every man and woman out of a job a place to eat and sleep and something to wear would be provided by the government.

The government would be compelled to establish a ministry of workers' social legislation.

In addition to this there is a long and detailed list of demands providing for the complete care of maimed and disabled soldiers, calculated to insure them and their dependents adequate care between the time they are discharged and the time they are fully re-established as private citizens.

The Liberty Loans and Bank Deposits

The Annual Report of the Secretary of the Treasury contains this statement:

"The First Liberty Loan was sold and paid for between January 15 and August 31, 1917, and it is interesting to note that the reports of the national banks show that between the calls for reports from these banks of May 1, 1917, and September 11, 1917, embracing the period in which the First Liberty Loan was taken up and paid for, the national banks of the country, instead of being drained of their resources through these vast collections by the Government, actually showed an increase of $154,000,000 in the sum total of their deposits for that period. The payments for the Second Liberty Loan were made with the same ease that marked the settlements of the First."

To the effective machinery afforded by the Federal Reserve Banks is attributed the execution of these tremendous and unprecedented financial operations without a tremor of financial disturbance.

The total deposits on November 20, 1917, of the 7650 national banks amounted to $14,798,000,000, an increase over November 17, 1916, of $2,309,000,000, and an increase over September 11, 1917, of $1,564,000,000. The total resources of these banks on November 20 were $18,553,000,000.

LATE WIRE NEWS

AEROPLANES COLLIDE IN AIR

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 28.—Two aeroplanes collided in midair at North Island today at a height of 300 feet. Both crashed to the earth. It is believed that both pilots were killed but the army authorities refused to give out any information. Both machines were demolished.

AVIATOR KILLED IN FRANCE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—First Lieut. Jack M. Wright of New York was killed "in an airplane accident" in France, Pershing reported today. First Lieut. H. A. Brown of Cincinnati was wounded in an action with the British. It is stated. Three deaths from natural causes were reported.

INTERPRETS EXCLUSION BILL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The supreme court today held that the Chinese exclusion act cannot be construed to give the secretary of labor power to deport Chinese that have legally entered this country. This power must be exercised by the U. S. commissioners. It was declared.

STEVEDORES EXAMINED FOR INCENDIARY FIRE

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28.—Federal agents today examined eighteen of the stevedores who loaded the motor ship Selandia, and it is understood several are actually under arrest as a result of two incendiary fires aboard the vessel. Investigation revealed that an inflammable liquid had been poured over bales of cotton in the Selandia's cargo while it was being loaded.

K. P.'S BARRED FROM RAISE IN INSURANCE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The Knights of Pythias lodge was restrained from increasing its insurance rates by a decision of the supreme court today. The decision reversed the lower courts.

SAYS OFFICERS DISMISSED FOR NEGLIGENCE IN CARE OF SICK

Great Steps Taken to Send Men Into Service, So Some Are Not Prepared

PERSHING GAVE O. K. TO ENFIELD RIFLE

Allies Have Urged Sending Troops; Have Supply of Artillery Sufficient

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—"Every man in the thirty-two national guard and national army camps is ready now to be sent to France, whenever needed," declared Secretary Baker, striking back at the critics of the war department. In a sweeping statement before the senate military committee Baker showed that great steps have been taken to win the war, some necessarily sudden, hence with insufficient preparation.

Baker declared laxity in the medical service at the camps was not tolerated. Three officers have been court-martialed and dismissed from the army because of negligence in attending the sick. General Pershing himself O. K'd the modified Enfield rifle, he declared. A great army was called out before the guns were ready, on the earnest recommendation of Major General Wood, who declared the first need of the men was for other training besides that in the use of guns.

"Every man in France has his gun and is trained to use it," said Baker. "There are many times as many men now in France as was originally planned for this date. General Pershing himself decided against the Lewis machine for land work. On November 20, 140 machine guns were sent to each training camp."

"Every man in the thirty-two training camps is ready for service in France. Our army in France is now large, but it will soon be much larger, and it has the type of artillery it wants. 300 3-inch anti-aircraft guns will be turned out monthly before another year."

"Official reports show that camp hospitals are equal to civilian hospitals and all are in splendid shape. Tonnage is the crux of the whole situation and this country is using French artillery to save the ships for other supplies. The allies have urged the troops before anything else, saying that France and England could supply the artillery."

The United States will have more than 500,000 men in France early this year. More than a million and a half are ready to be sent.

DEPARTMENT HAS "NOT FALLEN DOWN," CLAIM

BY L. C. MARTIN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—To offset the impression which has been sent throughout the world that "the War Department has fallen down," Secretary of War Baker today outlined America's war work to the country.

Appearing before the Senate Military committee, which, through bills introduced by Senator Chamberlain, would strip Baker of much of his power, Baker replied to his critics.

"I am not here to defend myself or to deny that mistakes and false starts have been made," Baker declared.

"The impression has gone abroad that the War Department has fallen down. The country is entitled to know whether that is a fact. It is entitled to know what this war is, what its problems are."

Baker then paid high tribute to army officers and civilian helpers of the War Department alike for their "devoted, untiring efforts to rush war preparations."

Have Sought Remedy
"When we have found errors, we immediately have sought the remedy. I have no bias in favor of individuals. If General Crozier, myself or any one else, had shown up some morning in the casualty lists it would not matter nearly so much as that the great enterprise should deserve the comment that it has fallen down."

Baker's testimony here was interrupted by the noise from a huge throng which crowded outside the big room. Owing to hundreds who demanded entrance the committee was forced suddenly to move its hearing.

The World Is Controlled By Infinite Wisdom and Power. Many a Questioning Mind Will Find Comfort in These Verses by Ella Wheeler Wilcox:

Whatever Is--Is Best

I know as my life grows older
And mine eyes have clearer sight
That under each rank wrong, somewhere,
There lies the root of Right.
That each sorrow has its purpose
By the sorrowing oft unguessed,
But as sure as the sun brings morning—
Whatever is—is best!

I know that each sinful action,
As sure as the night brings shade,
Is somewhere, sometime, punished
Tho' the hour be long delayed.
I know that the soul is aided
Sometimes by the heart's unrest
And to grow means often to suffer—
But whatever is—is best!

I know there are no errors
In the great Eternal Plan,
And all things work together
For the final good of man.
And I know when my soul speeds onward
In its grand Eternal quest
I shall say as I look back earthward
Whatever is—is best.

THIS WEEK ARE SHIPPING LAST OF VALENCIAS LATE BLOOM

Unusual Condition In Citrus Association Bringing Good Results

With fifteen or twenty cars more to go, the Orange County Fruit Exchange is this week winding up its shipments of late bloom Valencia.

This is going to mark a rather unique feature in the history of the Valencia in this county. Around a total of $150,000 is going to be the total received for Valencia sold at all and when what Valencia there are on the trees are considered a detriment.

Already about seventy-five carloads of these Valencia have been shipped. About twenty cars are still to go from the associations affiliated with the exchange.

"This is not exactly what we have always known as off-bloom Valencia," said L. D. Palmer, manager of the exchange. "The ordinary off-bloom Valencia is sour and woody and is not desirable for shipment. These oranges we are now shipping are an off-bloom, but more properly should be designated as a late bloom. They are not sour or woody, but are a good eatable orange."

"If the navel crop had been normal these oranges would have been shipped in November, but knowing that there was a big shortage in the state's navel crop we decided to hold these Valencia."

"For the regular sizes we have been getting $4.75 and $4.85 a box delivered. That means around $3.75 f. o. b. here."

The exchange has found that shipments East have been very slow in delivery. There are plenty of refrigerator cars on the coast, but the congestion in the East is such that deliveries are slow. Practically all of the

Our Boys in France, and Home Protection

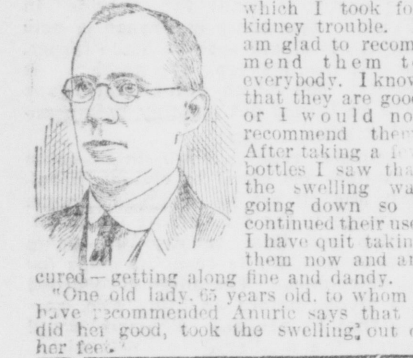

The men on the firing line represent the pick of our American youth. One in four of our boys at home was sick, rejected because of physical deficiency. Many times the kidneys were to blame.

If we wish to prevent old age coming on too soon, or if we want to increase our chances for a long life, Dr. Pierce of the Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., says that you should drink plenty of water daily between meals. Then procure at your nearest drug store, Anuric (double strength). This "An-u-ric" drives the uric acid out and cures backache and rheumatism.

If we wish to keep our kidneys in the best condition a diet of milk and vegetables, with only little meat once a day, is the most suitable. Drink plenty of pure water, take Anuric three times a day for a month.

Send Dr. Pierce ten cents for trial package. "Anuric"—many times more potent than lithia, eliminates uric acid as hot water melts sugar. A short trial will convince you.

MR. REECE JONES says: "Just a few lines in regard to Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets which I took for kidney trouble. I am glad to recommend them to everybody. I know that they are good or I would not recommend them. After taking a few bottles I saw that the swelling was going down so I continued their use. I have quit taking them now and am cured getting along fine and dandy."

"One old lady, 65 years old, to whom I have recommended Anuric says that it did her good, took the swelling out of her feet."

DON'T PUT OFF A PLUMBING NEED. LITTLE LEAKS GROW BIG INDEED.

If you neglect your plumbing needs they seem to increase as rapidly as a snowball rolling down hill. If there's something wrong with your plumbing it will cost you less money to have it attended to at once than to put it off for a while.

regular sized oranges from the Orange County Fruit Exchange are going to points this side of Chicago. Attempts to get oranges east of Chicago have been few. One carload of oranges started from here for Philadelphia on December 31 has not arrived there yet. In the meantime it has been through two blizzards.

It was found that on many of the trees were a lot of off-sized Valencia, little fruit that went 288 and smaller. The association managers concluded to ship this and get what they could. The fruit was no use hanging on the trees and had better be off. The growers would be satisfied if they got enough out of it to pay the expenses of shipping. A lot of this fruit was merely jotted loose into boxes, nailed up and shipped. One carload of this small fruit sent from McPherson got through to Pittsburgh and was sold last Friday at $3.65 per box, taking all sizes. That brings the growers something like $2.65 f. o. b. here, and they are highly pleased with the result.

This week pickers from the Tustin Hills Association are taking off about three carloads of late bloom from Arthur H. Lyon's orchards. While Lyon has one of the heaviest crops of Valencia in the district coming on, he also has on his trees now one of the heaviest late bloom Valencia crops.

'VICTORY BREAD' TO BE PROGRAM LOCAL BAKERS

Edict of President to Use Substitute For Wheat to Be Carried Out Here

A five per cent substitute for wheat flour will be in effect among local bakers immediately following an order issued by President Wilson Saturday limiting the use of wheat, and ordering a gradual substitution until a 20 per cent wheat saving will be effected. The new bread will be known as "Victory bread." This does not mean that there will be a reduction in the price of bread, however. Local bakers today stated that other cereal substitutes are more expensive than wheat flour, and that prices from wholesalers are gradually and slowly increasing.

According to the order issued by the President, two wheatless days per week will be in force hereafter, Monday and Wednesday to be so observed. The order was not out in time to make the observance of wheatless day generally possible today, but hereafter both days will be observed. One wheatless meal each day and one meatless meal each day are included in the new edict.

Hits Grocers, Too
Grocers also are included in the regulation. Wheat flour may be sold only when an equal amount of substitute flour is sold with it.

"People will not notice a five per cent substitute for wheat flour," said W. D. Baker today. "But when twenty per cent of some other cereal is used in place of the wheat, the change will be evident. I expect to begin the substitution at once, according to the recommendation of the President, although there has been no official notification received as yet."

"Orange county is selling bread cheaper at the present time than any other place in the country. Prices are not going to be lowered by a substitution of some other cereal for wheat."

Official recommendations are expected by the local bakers at any time, and in the meantime, preparations are being made to follow out the recommendations of the Government.

VIOLATORS HOOVER DAYS TO BE POSTED
Violators of "porkless" Tuesdays and Saturdays will be disciplined by having their names publicly posted, according to measures adopted by Ralph P. Merritt, Federal food administrator for California, notice of which arrived in Los Angeles yesterday.

Food inspectors are to visit all eating places on the conservation days and report violations to the administrator, who will take immediate and summary action to force the disloyal restaurant or hotel keeper to conform with Hoover's regulations.

Later the names of grocers and butchers who sell ham, bacon, lard or other pork products on "porkless" days will be posted in order that public opinion may force these dealers to pay for their lack of patriotism by boycotts, according to Merritt's plans.

"Any dealer, hotel or restaurant keeper who sells any kind of pork products on the restricted days is directly aiding the Kaiser," Merritt states in his notice.

California is exempted from the meatless day order but observes Tuesday and Saturday as porkless days.

ORANGE, Jan. 28.—Officers today are looking for Henry Bell, age 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Bell, of North Shafter street, who Saturday passed a forged check for $26.35 on a clerk at the Elton & Grote store here.

Young Bell presented the check to the clerk, asking for the cash. The check was drawn on the First National Bank of Orange, and the signature was that of W. A. Phillips, a plain forgery. The lad has not been seen since, and an attempt has been made by officers to locate any other checks that may have been issued. All efforts to get a trace of the boy have failed. It is presumed that he took the money and skipped out for a good time.

MINOR PHYSICAL DEFECT MEANS NO DISCHARGE IS GIVEN

Men Who Did Not Pass Before May Now Go In For Limited Service

Today some of the men who failed to pass the physical examinations for the first army were ordered held for limited military service.

Under instructions for the physical examinations started today, men with minor physical defects, such as hither to have been regarded as sufficient for full discharge, are held for limited service.

Men who are not physically fit to occupy first-line trenches are to be used in non-combatant service to release the physically fit for active service.

Unless a man is so physically disabled that he cannot earn a living for himself in private life he is to be taken into the army to release physically fit men for service, provided, of course he is not subject to classification in any of the deferred classes.

A physically unfit man who is married and has a wife or children dependent on him is to be placed in Class 4, just the same as any physically fit married man.

The new orders mean that no man is to be excused from Class 1 and put into Class 5 unless his physical disability is so glaring that he is unable to earn a living for himself.

For instance, a man with flat feet may not make a soldier fit for first-line trench duty, but he will be just as able to load and unload motor lorries in a concentration camp as a physically fit man. By having the man with flat feet do the work another soldier will be released for the firing line.

The War Department, by the new orders, holds that a man with the sight of one eye can make just as good a clerk in the quartermaster department as a physically fit soldier.

Of course, exemption board officials said, if a man has only one leg, or one arm, or is totally incapacitated, that man will have to be excused.

Physical Tests
This morning seventeen registrants were given physical examinations by Drs. D. F. Royer and John Wehrly, with results as follows:

Accepted for military service—Enoch E. Cornelison, Orange; Lester S. Lamun, Orange; Herbert W. Teague, Delhi; Arthur Leyrer, Irvine; James Wilbur Woods, Orange.

Accepted for limited service—George E. Holditch, 107 West Third, Albert, C. Carmichael, 501 West Fourth, Arthur W. Spear, 602 S. Ross; Robert Lee Brown, 717 S. Garfield; Charles W. Burr, 1023 West Fifth; James Robert Peirce, Jr., 1818 N. Main; Arthur C. Woodward, Olive; Theodore West, 1037 Riverine; Henry W. Wolfe, 1514 Durant.

Rejected—Andrew Butler, Irvine; Howard J. Carriger, Orange; Claude G. Hutchinson, 1124 E. Fourth.

Card Received
After delays of months the registration card of William H. Overshiner, son of Postmaster Overshiner, has been received by the local board.

Overshiner registered in Alaska while in the U. S. Geodetic Survey service, and his card should have been sent here last June. It has just been received by Adjutant General Dorree. Overshiner is now in the Federal Geodetic service in Georgia.

Are Returned
Questionnaires returned undelivered include those of Edward Seis, Oil City, La.; Miguel Marquez, Alamo, Lopez, Tonios Muiros, San Juan Capistrano.

TALBERT IS FINDING NEW YORK RATHER COLD PLACE

County Chairman Writes that War and Weather Have Tamed Big City

"I haven't yet frozen to death in this cold country without coal," writes Thomas B. Talbert of Huntington Beach, chairman of the Orange County Board of Supervisors. In a letter, Talbert says:

"It sure tames New York down—the war, cold weather, shortage of coal, and the Garfield fuel order. Practically all business offices are closed. The elevators not running, and the lights are turned off. The hotels and rooming houses all seem to be full and running over. I am told that a great many families have moved to hotels on account of heat, or more properly said, on account of cold."

"Everyone seems to be taking it good-naturedly, and I suppose they may just as well."

"The boats, trucks and teams are all tugging away trying to break the embargo, but they have an awful time. The poor horses slip and slide, fall down and balk on the slippery, icy streets. So you can imagine how difficult it is to make headway about relieving the congestion. I am enjoying the novelty of the trip fine thus far, but I am beginning to get tired of this cold weather."

"I was down to the Hudson river this morning. There is lots of ice along the edge of the stream, but the center of the stream was open."

"Traveling now is very much like being on that slow train through Arkansas, you have read about."

EXPERIMENTS IN NUT CULTURE TO BE MADE NEAR S. A.

Citrus Station Secures 20 Acres For Development of Walnut Stocks

That the Citrus Experiment Station at Riverside will develop a walnut grove on the San Joaquin ranch for experimenting in walnut culture was disclosed by Dr. L. D. Batcheller, of the station, in an address at the meeting of the Santa Ana Farm Center held Saturday afternoon at the city council chambers.

Dr. Batcheller covered various phases of walnut culture in Southern California, giving results of observations made in various groves, many of the experiments being in progress at this time.

The twenty acres to be put under experiment will be planted to develop the best root stocks for increasing the production of groves and resisting the blight. Nine different root stocks will be planted and on these will be grafted many of the commercial varieties of nuts.

Experiments in culture will be made on trees of the grove of the San Joaquin Fruit Company. This experiment will include fertilizing to determine the best method of enriching the soil and feeding the trees.

A third experiment is now in progress in different groves of Southern California. It is in the line of pruning. He asserted that from observations already made it had been shown that groves in which trees had been pruned moderately each year the production was greatest.

The purpose of the experiments on the twenty acres will be to develop stocks that will produce heavier yields and that will resist the blight.

The speaker said that the average production of the groves of the state was 825 pounds to the acre. One of the factors keeping down the production is the planting of trees on soils not adapted to the culture of walnuts. His observations have been that nuts cannot be grown at a profit on light sandy soils.

Investigation has shown that only five per cent of the groves have been systematically fertilized. Lack of pruning in old groves also has had its effect on production. He has found that in Orange county a larger percentage of old groves are pruned than in any of the other walnut producing sections. Under-irrigation is also held responsible for low yield. Groves should be irrigated in the winter and there should be from one to three irrigations during the summer. It has been shown that those orchards receiving proper irrigation in the summer have yielded the heaviest. Trees which hold their leaves late are better producers than those that drop their leaves during the harvest season. Groves that are fertilized regularly yield an average of one and a half tons to the acre, and in the opinion of Prof. Batcheller, walnut men can afford to pay as much for good barnyard fertilizer as the citrus men.

No Summer Work Best

Following the address by Batcheller, growers were asked to express their views and experiences. W. L. Grubb was the first to respond and in his opinion groves should not be plowed in the summer.

He said that the best results were obtained where cover crops were sowed in the fall and permitted to remain until after the crop is harvested. Heavy irrigations in January, February and March should be followed with irrigations in the summer, with no disturbance of the land except discing the cover crop just before the harvest commences. Deep plowing in the fall, after the crop is gathered, should be made. Plowing at any other season destroys the fibrous roots carrying the next season's crop.

Many features in the culture of the walnut were brought out in the general discussion, and a great deal of information was obtained that will be of value to growers. The meeting was one of profit and it was regretted that there was not a larger attendance of growers. The matter was considered of such importance that it was decided to continue the discussion at the next meeting of the Center, which will be held on Saturday, February 24. Growers, whether members of the Center or not, are welcomed to the meetings and discussions.

W. M. Reiding, president of the Center, presided. Roy K. Bishop is secretary of the organization.

The Farm Center has been formed for the purpose of discussion of farm methods and it is intended to have an expert on some farm product present at each meeting to speak.

CROSS COUNTRY AT POMONA WON BY ADKINSON

Fleet Footed Santa Ana Boy
Easy Victor Over Tiger
School Runners

CLAREMONT, Jan. 28.—Amid showers and peals of thunder, Pomona College blasted Occidental's fond hopes for gaining the cross-country honors, which the Sagehens have held for years, when Ray Adkinson, the Jackrabbit of the Southland, galloped over the finish line first with Vincent Humeston pulling in on his heels a close second. Foster, the long-winded hope of the Tigers, satisfied himself with a poor third. Adkinson's time for the distance of three miles and a half was 16 m. 2-5s., which is remarkable considering the weather.

The remaining contestants finished as follows: Dewey, fourth; Kellogg of Oxy, fifth; Smith, sixth; Kellum, seventh; Perry, Pomona, eighth; and Melviter, ninth.

Adkinson and Humeston jumped in to the lead at the start of the race and were never in danger, lengthening the lead as the race progressed. The Sagehens were a little excited at the start, the fears being based on the report that Oxy threatened to cop the cross-country honors.

The heavy rain at the start prevented a large crowd witnessing the event, and the contestants claim that the ground was white with hail up in the back stretches of the course.

RED CROSS TO KEEP LOCATION

State Is Continuing to Pay
Rent, and Move Not Necessary Now

The Santa Ana Red Cross does not have to move from its present headquarters at the Armory, as was feared it might have to do.

A. C. Black, manager of the Armory Hall Company, which owns the building, has learned that the state is still paying rent for the building, and evidently will continue its payments.

This morning it was agreed between some of the directors of the association and T. E. Stephenson, president of the Red Cross, that the Red Cross can continue its occupancy just as it has since the headquarters were established. That occupancy is to be without any charge for rent so long as the state continues to pay rent. Should the state not pay rent, the Red Cross will have the option of remaining at a rental of $65 a month, which no more than covers the interest, taxes and repair bills of the company. This rental will probably be reduced, if it becomes necessary for the Red Cross to pay rent, through a storage arrangement that may be made with the state.

At any rate, the activities at headquarters are to continue uninterrupted. Within a few days a partition will be built in the drill hall, so that the surgical dressings tables can be placed there.

URGE RANCHERS IRRIGATE NOW LEST SEASON REMAIN DRY

S. A. V. I. Co. Has Water That Its Directors Think
Should Be In Use

The Santa Ana Valley Irrigation Company directors believe that orchardists ought to be irrigating right now.

If this is going to be a dry year, time should be taken by the forelock, and every bit of surface water should be in use. There should not be a drop running down the Santa Ana river.

As one means of calling attention of growers to the situation and at the same time to make winter irrigation cost less, the directors of the S. A. V. I. Company on Saturday reduced the price of water from 30 cents a head per hour to 20 cents.

Water is on application right now, but applications are nowhere as numerous as they ought to be. At least that is the way the directors see the situation.

"There is a stream of only twenty-five heads of water in the ditches these days," said A. G. Finley, one of the directors, "and that does not look very encouraging when we face a possible dry season. Ranchers all know that the rains we have had in the past week do not amount to much so far as taking care of an orchard is concerned. There has been so little rain that orchardists who have not irrigated for some time would be surprised if they dug down in their orchards and found out how dry the ground really is. The orchards ought to be wet right now, and if it is a dry season they will be that much ahead. If it is a wet season, no harm has been done."

"We want to fully utilize the twenty-five heads of water that are now available. People do not realize what the possibilities of the year are, else they would be irrigating right now."

"The water in our wells from which we pump to augment our surface flow supply is at a level twenty feet under what it was at this time last year. We are not going to start pumping from the wells until mid-summer, when the water will be needed the most. We have a big basin of water there, which will supply about 60 much and no more, and if this is a dry year we will have to use the surface supply first and come in with the pumps later. The whole situation is one that ought to cause ranchers to put in applications for water right now."

GARDEN GROVE NEWS BUDGET

GARDEN GROVE, Jan. 26.—The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. Frank Mills. Two comforts were tied after which a social hour was enjoyed. The hostess served light refreshments.

Mrs. H. C. Downs was hostess to the Tuesday Afternoon Club, at her attractive bungalow, two miles north of town. An interesting paper on "Characteristics of the Russian People" was given by Mrs. R. M. Fay, and "Famous Russians" by Mrs. J. Allen Knapp. Consistent with the Red Cross card in the window, the charming hostess served tea and wafers. Mrs. H. B. McLeod of Long Beach, was in attendance and extended an invitation to meet with her for the March meeting, which was accepted instantly.

A delightful social evening was spent Friday by the Baptist young people, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Hedstrom. The time was spent with music, games and a "weenie" bake.

25 CENTS A DAY SAVERS WANTED FOR THRIFT CLUB

Stamp-a-Day Club Will Be Organized in City Next Week

Who can save 25 cents a day? Everyone in Santa Ana who can do that, and is willing to obligate himself to do that every working day for the balance of 1918, is wanted as a member of the "Stamp-a-Day Club," to be organized next week.

The purpose of the club is to promote the sale of Thrift Stamps—one of the Government's methods of raising funds to finance the war. The issue is for $2,000,000, and is for the year 1918 only.

It is not particularly necessary that a single stamp should be purchased each day in order to become a member of the club, but it is necessary that the member buy the equivalent—once a week, if preferable to a daily purchase.

In buying the stamps the buyer is not donating his money—he is lending it to the Government to carry on its war activities—and at the expiration of five years the money will come back, plus 4 per cent compounded quarterly. The sum of $4.12 invested this month will be worth an even $5 January 1, 1923.

City and rural mail carriers can supply purchasers with stamps, and orders for one or more will receive prompt attention from them.

The committee appointed to give the club its first boost will meet at the Chamber of Commerce rooms Tuesday night at 7:30, and arrange plans for a two-hour campaign Wednesday forenoon.

FACING THE FACTS

We can work for a time on our emotions, but it is only when we are willing to face the facts in the case that we can really shoulder the burden at hand and carry it to the finish.

Now the facts in the feeding of the army we are sending over to France are these. This army would eat 13,350,000 pounds of beef a month, 3,375,000 pounds of bacon, 1,375,000 cans of fresh roast beef, hashed corned beef, corned beef, and salmon, 13,350,000 pounds of flour, and 3,000,000 pounds of sugar a month.

If we are going to keep our soldiers we are sending "over there" in good health, we must somehow manage to send them this much food a month.

In addition to this, because our fields have not yet been ravaged by war, and because, too, we are able to keep a fair proportion of men on our farms, the Allies look to us to provide a great part of THEIR food supply.

This means that millions more tons of food must be drained from our resources, if this war is going to bring victory to us instead of to Germany.

When we are willing to face these facts, then we will begin in earnest to save the food that is wanted for these big shipments abroad. Until then, we will economize one day—the day perhaps we read some pathetic story of hungry little French children. But the next day we will forget and go our old way with reckless disregard of the price this country and the Allies will pay for our selfishness.

But when we face the facts squarely, then there is not an American woman who will not come forward and shoulder her part of this great burden of saving food with the same plucky determination "to do or die" that is sending thousands of our boys today bravely into the trenches in France.

And once we have steeled our wills for the fight, the rest is easy!

Such are the wonderful resources of this country, that for every kind of food we are asked to save there are two or more other foods that we can substitute with no loss of nourishment or palatability.

Thus we have already found that corn, oatmeal, rye and barley can be substituted for a great part of our wheat. Substitutes for sugar include raisins, honey, maple syrup, corn syrup, sorghum and molasses; for red meats, fish, poultry, game, beans, nuts; for animal fats, the various vegetable oils.

THE LATEST 'PHOBIA'

Chief of Police Roberts of Pendleton, Ore., is said to have declared himself the discoverer of a new disease called "soldierphobia." It attacks young girls. Its symptoms are the permission of osculatory embraces by soldiers passing through the city on troop trains.

A knowledge of Greek is not a necessary part of a policeman's equipment, and though Chief Roberts did not intend to say "soldierphobia," meaning "a fear of soldiers," but "soldier-mania" meaning "madness for excessive or undue attachment to soldiers," his ideas on the subject are sound.

"I do not object to girls showing their patriotism," he says, "but it must be done with reasonable decorum."

For a girl to show affection to her brother, her cousin, her fiancé, or her friend of long standing at the time of his leaving for a perilous adventure is natural and right. A girl who cares about having people respect her will do this with dignity.

But for girls to permit strange men to mug and kiss them promiscuously just because the men are in uniform is just exactly as disgusting and inexcusable as if the girls were to station themselves on any street corner and offer to hug and kiss any man who passed by.

ALAS! HOW TRUE!

Duke Ernst Gunther of Schleswig-Holstein, brother of the German empress, has attracted attention by writing a book. The subject is "American Morality." The substance is a general arraignment of American life, a bitter condemnation of President Wilson, and by way of brightening the mournful picture, a eulogy of German institutions.

America, says this noble author, is the only country in the world that is as corrupt as Russia. (And he ought to know, after the high-minded efforts the German Government made to corrupt both.) Our money magnates, he informs us, are totally without shame. "Every one of them has two senators and several members of congress in his pocket." (Really, are there enough to go around at that rate?) "Nothing is thought of this, it is so usual."

President Wilson, the duke says, knows about this. But he makes no effort to correct it. Instead, he has the presumption to criticize Germany, where every official "wears the white waistcoat of a blameless life." He characterizes the President as an unctuous pharisee, the "creature of the Morgan Trust," the tool of "plutocratic influences in their most frightful form." History, he predicts, will pronounce the name of Wilson "the most baneful in its annals."

The whole book is just as true as that.

R. R. PASSES NOT CUT WITHIN CALIFORNIA

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28.—Director General McAdoo's order cutting off railroad passes will have no effect in California, according to members of the State Railroad Commission here today. The anti-pass order stops issuance of passes to all persons not specifically mentioned in the interstate commerce laws. The railroad commission members pointed out that the California anti-pass law is the same in its terms as the interstate commerce act and for several years passes have been restricted. Politicians no longer ride fare free, the commission said, and added that the railroads are not maintaining political bureaus in this state.

President William Spruille of the Southern Pacific would not comment on the order.

WIFE OF ATTORNEY IN MOONEY CASE SUICIDE

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28.—Mrs. Isabel Lawlor, wife of Attorney John G. Lawlor of the Thomas Mooney defense, was dead today, a suicide, having fired two shots into her own brain. Dependence upon separation from her husband and baby daughter is believed to have been the cause, although at the moment of her suicide Lawlor was in Berkeley, arranging for a home for herself and wife, believing reconciliation was near.

"I have made my own mistakes and have trifled with fate I suppose," said one of the several notes she left. "At any rate my husband had been good and noble and has done all in his power to have me study to make something out of my brain. But I have lost all heart."

BRITISH AIRMEN IN RAID STIRS GERMANS

LONDON, Jan. 28.—British airmen who raided Mannheim Thursday night caused unparalleled terror in that city, according to Geneva dispatches to the London Daily Express today, quoting several travelers from Germany. One of these, an injured German, arrived at Basle. Despite police orders he said, terror-stricken people rushed out of doors half clothed, and gathered in the streets. The British raiders scored a direct hit on the barracks. After the raid the travelers declared crowds assembled and shouted, "Down with war; give us peace!"

HOW TO BE HAPPILY MARRIED

(From the Washington Times)

Ma Sunday and Pa Sunday tell you how to be happily married. Pa emphasizes the importance of neatness, no fault-finding or misunderstandings.

Ma says the wife must be interested in her husband's business, husband patient, no listening to gossip. Pray together.

We say that to be happily married man should realize that he is lucky to persuade ANY woman to put up with him—since women are so much better than men.

Woman should say to herself, "Men are pretty much alike. I may as well make the best of this one."

Both of them, after the first excitement of buying furniture, must concentrate on the children. Be sure that Adam and Eve building the first house together after they were dispossessed of the Garden were interested in that work and in each other and for the time stopped discussing whose fault it was. Bringing up children is like building a house, you construct the next generation—that is the big interest.

W. C. T. U. Big Factor In War Relief Work

Among the major agencies engaged in welfare work on behalf of the armies of freedom, perhaps, least has been heard of the W. C. T. U. But the White Ribboners have not been idle, nor even dilatory.

Recognized and appreciated by the United States Government as third among the organizations doing both war relief and constructive welfare work, the W. C. T. U. has been throwing the full force of its five hundred thousand membership into the most generous activity for the soldiers in our present great crisis. In Southern California alone, in the past six months, over five thousand comfort bags have been made, filled and given; special surgical bandages (made only by this organization) have been shipped to the war hospitals in almost equal numbers, to say nothing of hospital supplies, a fully equipped ambulance, and many sweaters and other warm knitted articles.

But seemingly the demand for active service on the part of this great Union has but begun, and its intensive but unheralded practical work of the past few months has well-nigh stripped its meagre treasures. The W. C. T. U. is, therefore, fully justified in now appealing to the public for financial assistance, since its work has been and is now vitally needed. It has over five thousand trained workers and its organization is most efficiently perfected; and it is now planning a W. C. T. U. "drive" throughout Southern California, hoping to raise $30,000 for its war relief work.

In view of the coming campaign, a brief sketch of the W. C. T. U. and its work and plans will, no doubt, be interesting and helpful; and to that end a series of three articles have been written by Mary M. Cowan, of Covina, editor of the White Ribbon, and publicity manager in the coming drive for funds. The first of Mrs. Cowan's articles follows, and the others will appear in subsequent issues of this paper.

Brought into world-wide prominence in the past few months by its organized war relief work, the power, value and efficiency of the W. C. T. U. are receiving today a new appreciation, not only with our government, which rates it as third among the great helpful organizations of women, but with the rank and file of the people, who realize the breadth and scope of its beneficent work.

Of all organizations the wide world over, it is the most unique in its origin, persistent in its purpose and purely philanthropic in its aims. In more than fifteen thousand cities and towns in this country there are nearly five hundred thousand women wearing the little knot of white ribbon which signifies their allegiance to the high principles of the organization. In its declaration of principles, the W. C. T. U. stands squarely for the gospel of the Golden Rule, for a living wage, an eight-hour day, for courts of conciliation and arbitration, for justice to greed of gain, for "peace on earth, and good will to men," for the equal right of all to hold opinions and to express the same with equal freedom, and for one standard of purity for both men and women.

This great society started from one chance-spoken word. It was not planned; no one wrote about it, talked it up or even thought of it. A temperance lecture was given on a few hours' notice in the town of Hillsboro, Ohio, in December, 1873, by Dr. Dio Lewis. One burning sentence brought about a worldwide resultant. "O, women of Hillsboro, you could pray out your souls in a week, if you would." Within ten minutes' time a group of earnest and heart-sick mothers had appointed a day, an hour, and a leader to march at their head in their now famous crusade against the open saloon. All other interests of life paused before this crusade idea, and within two weeks a moral whirlwind swept over two hundred and fifty towns and cities in western New York and eastern Ohio, and saloons by the score were closed.

Such, briefly, is the story of the beginning of the now powerful organization, which in the early days, however, grew slowly. But the great moral principles involved attracted hundreds of brave, intrepid women, who planned the broad and constructive work of today.

From the first moment that Miss Frances E. Willard, of Chicago, took the leadership in 1879, the scope of the work broadened, the methods improved, and a truly wonderful development began. Miss Willard was a woman of remarkable executive ability, with a well-trained mind and a campus responsibility I will not allow to be dodged," said Baker.

MOTHER SACRIFICES LIFE FOR HER CHILD

SAN JOSE, Jan. 28.—The 2-year-old daughter of Bert Davis of Fruitvale today owed its life to its mother's sacrifice of her own. Mrs. Davis was carrying the child down a grade near Los Gatos when the brakes gave way on the automobile in which her husband was following. Mrs. Davis threw the child from her, but herself was unable to escape the uncontrolled machine and was killed.

KUEHLMANN DISAVOWED ANNEXATIONIST PLAN

AMSTERDAM, Jan. 28.—German Foreign Minister Kuehlmann flatly disavowed annexationist principles in his speech before the main Reichstag committee Saturday, according to details received here today. The German minister was quoted as declaring:

"The declaration of Count Westarp (leader of the German conservatives) advocates seizure of territory based on our military successes. Such an attitude, for the present imperial government, in view of its principles, is impossible from the outset."

UKRAINIANS ASK AID OF AUTSRO-HUNGARY

AMSTERDAM, Jan. 28.—Ukrainians bitterly fighting the Bolsheviks, seeking possession of Tuck, asked assistance of the Austro-Hungarian commander, but were refused aid, according to Vienna dispatches quoting the Ukrainian reports from the newspaper Duo.

U. S. PATROL VESSEL RAN ON ROCK IN FOG

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—An American patrol vessel, operating in European waters, ran on a rock January 25, while driving through a heavy fog. The vessel "probably will have to be abandoned. There were no casualties," the report added.

SHELLS BURST AS HE WRITES THRILL LETTER

Conditions at the Very Front of Battle Are Described by Canadian

A letter, written in a cellar near which shells fired by the Germans were bursting, has been received by Miss Ruby House, daughter of W. T. House, of 715 Mortimer street. The calmness and ease with which the writer has gone ahead with his letter while a portion of the house in which he was at the time was taken away by a shell, brings forth an admiration for the man's steady nerve.

The writer of the letter is Sapper Frederick R. Bowen, of the Canadian Railway Troops, enlisted from Bridgeburg, Ont. In his letter he says:

"I am now up at the farthest advance station. We are ahead of the artillery and support trenches and our railroad goes right to the front. The place where I am writing this, and is at present my home, is in a cellar piled high with sand bags on every side. We are not miles away from Fritz, but yards, and we can see his front line very plainly. We have to keep under cover all day and do all of our work at night. This place is continually under shell fire and he throws hundreds of them around us every day."

The Gas Guard
I am what they call gas guard, and my duty is to watch and find out when Fritz is throwing gas shells with the shrapnel and high explosives. It is a very responsible position and the lives of the rest of our gang depend upon how quickly you can act when he is using gas.

Fritz has just dropped two shells very close to our place and you can hear the stones and pieces falling on top and at the sides. This was once a very grand city but is now nothing but ruins; it has been a place of the rich and was noted for its wonderful artesian waters and baths. It is really a suburb to a very large city. About five doors down from us stands what is left of the opera house. It has been a magnificent building and would be about as big as Sheas in Buffalo. There is a part of one side and the front left standing.

Right directly across the road from us was the park, it now resembles a bush that has been cut and the stumps left standing. At the end of this street is a pile of stone and mortar; it was the church. You would never know to look at it what it was, if the bell wasn't laying beside it in the road just where it has fallen.

Still They Shell
Beside the church the Germans have buried many of their dead, but it seems they are not satisfied to let them rest in peace, for they keep right on shelling it and it looks like a plowed field. It is certainly not a very pleasing sight to the eye. Some of the sights you see are beyond description. The pain and suffering some of the wounded suffer must be awful; you never hear a whimper and they take it as if it was all in a day's work.

The Red Cross is certainly doing a wonderful work and certainly deserves every assistance possible. The Y. M. C. A. is another organization that deserves great credit. They even have a place up here in a dugout and the fellows can come out of the trenches and get a hot cup of tea or coffee and some biscuits at any time and it costs them nothing.

I might just mention that Fritz has just knocked the end off our house and landed another right in the front yard.

When you stop and think for a moment of how many are being wounded and killed each day on this small portion of the front, and then to know how many more miles the front extends in each direction, it doesn't seem possible that this war has been going on for three years. And there is always a man to take another's place. I often wonder where they all come from. The same applies to Germany and we know that they are losing a good many more than we do.

Unlike Civilization
They say the world was civilized, but when you have a look out here, you can certainly never believe in the word civilization again. As far as you can see in any direction the towns and villages are all ruins. France, I think, can never recover from the effects of this war. At any rate, it will certainly never be in this generation. They say Belgium is worse, but I have my doubts if anything could be any worse than it is right here.

The furniture and wearing apparel of the people who have lived in this city are still in the houses and is now all mixed in the ruins. There is a peculiar incident a few doors away. There is a picture of an old lady still hanging over the fire-place in its original place, and although the wall is like a sieve from shrapnel, the picture is unharmed and is in perfect condition.

I have seen lots of Belgian refugees, and they are a very pitiable sight. They live in long, galvanized iron buildings and sleep in bunks two high. You will generally find seven or eight families in the same building and they are all very scantily clad. I guess, though, they get enough to eat, and nothing else seems to bother them. They are, I suppose, by this time, hardened to it and it is their only home and they have to be satisfied.

I have plenty of good socks and any extra I get I always give to some one in need of them. Right now I don't know of any fellow with whom someone is not sending things to. I know, though, of plenty of them, but I can't recollect their names and numbers at present. I am well and getting along fine. We get enough to eat, but it is the same thing each day and gets very tiresome at times. The Canadian soldier is the best taken care of of any in the war. They certainly supply us with plenty of clothes and it is very little trouble to get more when they are worn out.

FICKERT READY FOR NEW TRIAL OF MOONEY IF ORDERED BY COURT

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28.—If Thomas J. Mooney, convicted of complicity in the preparedness parade dynamiting, is granted a new trial as requested by President Wilson, District Attorney Fickert will again call Frank C. Oxman as a witness. It was Oxman who was accused of having "framed" testimony against Mooney when the latter was convicted. "I shall take no steps in the case," said Fickert. "I could start a second trial of Mooney on another count in the indictment, if I wanted to, but so far as the present case is concerned, it is out of my hands. If the conviction of Mooney is affirmed, the penalty will stand, unless the governor interposes."

Attorney General Webb declared his belief that Mooney should have a new trial.

SOMETHING IN HIS NAME

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28.—When Lee Chung, Chinese, adopted an American name, he picked a flossy one, J. Chester Lee. He revealed this when he appeared before the board of supervisors to ask a laundry permit.

Kan, where he did great work in whipping into shape men enlisted for service through the selective draft.

It was said in army circles here last night that General Wood and staff have been in France about six weeks. Lieutenant Colonel Kilbourne is chief of staff of General Wood's division. He has been detailed on duty on the general staff in Washington for two periods, it was stated at the War Department. His address as registered here is Mrs. C. Kilbourne, wife, Fort Riley, Kansas.

Major Joyce is also a member of General Wood's staff, it was said here last night. His emergency address is Mrs. K. A. Joyce, wife, 48 South First street, Wheeling, W. Va.

ASK ROOSTER MUFFLERS

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28.—There are so many roosters crowing in her neighborhood that she can't sleep at night, Mrs. N. H. Boyer complains, so she asked District Attorney Fickert to order mufflers for the birds.

SOCIETY

SURPRISE RECEPTION

Prof. and Mrs. D. K. Hammond Welcomed By H. S. Teachers Saturday

Prof. and Mrs. D. K. Hammond, who were wedded in La Platte, Neb., during the Christmas vacation, were the honored guests at a double social courtesy on Saturday evening at the hospitable home of their good friends, Misses Sarah and Lula Finley.

Prof. and Mrs. Hammond, Mr. and Mrs. Mac Northcross and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Crozier Phillips were the dinner guests, the beautifully appointed table being centered with lovely waxen Roman hyacinths.

In the living rooms, cornflowers were used in one apartment and yellow calceolarias in another. Following the dinner, the teachers of the Polytechnic high school faculty began dropping in one by one, announcing that they had come to get acquainted with their principal's winsome bride. The bride and groom were completely surprised and delighted with the events of the evening. The time was passed with social conversation.

The teachers made Mr. and Mrs. Hammond an appreciated gift of handsome silverware.

EBELL MEETING

Club Women and Guests Enjoy a Splendid Afternoon's Program

The Ebell Society held its first meeting for the new year at Elks Hall on Saturday afternoon, with a large number of club women and guests present to enjoy the very enjoyable program.

The meeting was opened with the singing of America with Mrs. Padgham at the piano.

Mrs. Padgham, state music chairman, spoke of the work being done in sending phonographs and records into the army cantonments, and told of the great enjoyment this music brings to the men.

Mrs. Nealey gave a very satisfactory report of the affairs of the Day Nursery, and reported an urgent need for clothing of all kinds, particularly for little babies and their mothers.

Mrs. A. J. Lawton, chairman of Legislation, announced a meeting to be held next Thursday afternoon at the First Baptist church, when Mrs. Frank Gibson of Los Angeles will speak on "Americanization," and at a conference to be held Thursday morning at the City Hall, the same subject will be under discussion. These meetings have been arranged by the women's committee of the State Council of Defense.

An announcement was made of the opening of the Red Cross Shop at the Armory today.

Miss Grace Whitel announced the opening of a new class in Domestic Science and Food Conservation to be opened at the High School on Thursday, Feb. 21st, which anyone who desires may join.

In closing a plea for generous and patriotic response to the government's Thrift Stamps sale, Mrs. Grubb announced the names of those chosen in each section to conduct the campaign. The names follow: Music section, Mrs. J. E. Goven; First Travelers, Mrs. J. P. Baumgartner; Second Travelers, Mrs. J. R. Medlock; Drama Section, Miss Adeline Hill; First Economics, Mrs. Arthur Lyon; Second Economics, Mrs. Raymond Miles; Third Economics, Mrs. Leiby; Sixth Economics, Mrs. P. A. Robinson; Tustin Economics, Mrs. Neal Beissel; French Sections, Mrs. Nealey; Book Review, Mrs. W. B. Tedford; Tustin Literature, Miss Childs.

The afternoon's program was given by Ethel Graham Lynde of Los Angeles, dramatic reader and interpreter and Clarence A. Gustin. The Russian opera, Eugene Onegin, was most cleverly and delightfully presented.

The music was written by Tschakowsky for the opera by the Russian dramatist, Pushkin. The text of the opera is most interesting, and its interpretation by Miss Lynde, with Mr. Gustin's superb rendition of the beautiful music furnished a treat that all music-lovers will long remember. The promised appearance of Mr. Gustin before an audience here always assures a large attendance, and his music Saturday was thoroughly enjoyed.

Merry Class Supper

The Philathea class of the Spurgeon Memorial church enjoyed a delightful class supper in the dining room of the church on Friday evening, the supper being followed by installation of the new staff of officers.

Mrs. Kenneth Morrison was chairman of the supper committee, the tables being made attractive with brown baskets filled with marigolds.

Miss Alverda West made an excellent toastmistress, those responding being Miss Carolyn Haughton, Mrs. Kenneth Morrison, Mrs. A. T. O'Rear, Miss Laura Menefee and Miss Flossie Zerman.

Mrs. Henry Donan was installing officer, the following being the new staff: President, Mollie Welch; vice-president, Stella Titcinal; treasurer,

Use oilcloth to make inner coverings for porch pillows, use wash materials for the outside covers and save the bother of worrying about them every time it rains.

Before curtains are put into the washbub fasten them to the stretcher to find out their exact size, then mark the frames with an indelible pencil, writing "parlor," or "bedroom," or dining-room, to identify the pieces.

This will save lots of time and worry in the way of adjusting the frames each time the curtains are washed.

Save the legs of a fine new kitchen table to make a low table for a nursery or child's bedroom. This makes a much more solid piece of furniture than is the ordinary low table sold for children's use. It can be painted any color and decorated with Mother Goose motifs.

When tailored suits get shiny from wear, wet a thin piece of muslin in witch hazel, spread it on the shiny section, hold a hot iron over it until it steams, then press the goods on the wrong side.

WANTED FOR MISREPRESENTATION A FOOD CROOK HAVE HIM ARRESTED

HOUSEWIVES! ATTENTION! Any person who tells you the government is going to seize your normal winter supply of canned goods or other foods is a crook or a thief. Have him arrested. You will have the Food Administration's hearty approval if you will do so.

Home canning is not hoarding. No person can be convicted of hoarding without a public hearing. Anti-Americans are abroad in the land to convince you otherwise. Jail is their place. Put them there.

Food Administrator, Herbert Hoover, thought the putting down of these "crooks, thieves and confidence operators" important enough to issue a statement recently branding them "petty frauds who should be held for the police."

Surprise Birthday Dinner When Mrs. E. A. Bell returned home from church yesterday morning, she found a steaming hot and appetizing dinner already to be served and the table decorated with fragrant hyacinth blossoms and ferns, the affair being planned in honor of her birthday by her husband and carried out by Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Syvester and Mr. and Mrs. Forest Gay.

Although taken completely by surprise, Mrs. Bell was delighted and able to express her thorough appreciation of the jolly little affair.

In Old Kentucky This delightful and favorite old play has come to Santa Ana and has gone again, but the next time it comes to this city it will receive the same appreciative audience, which almost filled the opera house on Saturday afternoon and evening.

The principal roles were well cast, but much disappointment was felt because the words of old Neb, the darky who takes a big part in the play, could not be understood. The actors taking the parts of Madge Drierly and Colonel Sandusky Doolittle were exceedingly well carried out and the young man who took the part of Frank Layson was much admired as was also the warm-hearted young mountaineer, Joe Lowry.

The part of the villain, Horace Holton, was well taken and the pickaninies (another disappointment, as all were grown-ups) made a scene of dancing, noise and music, which satisfied the most discriminating.

Those who had seen the play before, and they were legion, waited patiently for the two race horses to appear upon the scene of the race, but the animals were young and nervous and they absolutely refused to be taken upstairs.

The music throughout the play was lively and all the old-time airs of the Sunny South were greatly enjoyed.

SECRETARIES TO HOLD NEXT MEETING IN S. A. The next monthly meeting of the Commercial Secretaries of Southern California will be held in Santa Ana on the last Saturday in February. Santa Ana was selected as the next place of meeting at the session held in Whittier last Saturday. The organization met here once before. One of the principal addresses Saturday was delivered by Seward A. Simons of Los Angeles, whose subject was "The Value of a Chamber of Commerce to Its Community." He belongs to three different chambers and believes it is the duty of every citizen having the interest of his city at heart to support the Chamber of Commerce, financially and morally.

NEW CASH GROCERY OPENS LAST SATURDAY A new cash grocery was opened Saturday at 317 West Fourth street by Wm. White, one of Santa Ana's sterling young men. White was born here and has grown to manhood in this city. For four years he was employed in the F. E. Miles grocery and it was then he learned the grocery business. He has put in a complete new stock of staple and fancy groceries and also makes a specialty of fresh fruits and vegetables. The store will be known as the Wm. White Cash Grocery and, as the name implies, will be conducted on a cash basis.

Half an Inch of Rain Fell Storm Proves Disappointment to Ranchers in Dry Farming Sections

RAINFALL Jan. 25 .05 Jan. 26 .26 Jan. 27 .23 Storm total .54

The rain that came at the week-end finished off with a heavy shower Saturday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock over a portion of the county. Heavy rain drops were followed with some fine hail, and then came thunder and lightning at some considerable distance and a heavy downpour. This freak storm did not reach to Huntington Beach on the west or to Laguna Beach on the south. Taking the rain altogether it was a disappointment to the ranchers. It helped some, but it was far from being what they wanted. It merely wet the top. What the dry farming sections need is a soaker, a rain of two and a half or three inches. However, the rain did a great deal of good. It will carry things along until a good rain comes, if it comes. It came just right for the barley fields, upon which the grain sowed before the rain of two weeks ago is coming up nicely. It will do for some purposes in helping work the beet fields. At the Irvine ranch house, but 11 of an inch fell Saturday afternoon, making .29 of an inch for the storm.

CANNERY TO HAVE BIG INCREASE PRODUCTION THIS YEAR

Leases Acreage and Sub-Leases to Insure Against Shortage of Products

The big cannery on East First street will, this coming season, have a 60 per cent increase in the products over what it handled during the last season, according to the statement of Manager Ed Kitterman this morning.

The California Packing Corporation has 1,200 acres under contract for the growing of pimientos, 100 acres for growing of beans, and acreage sufficient to insure 1,000 tons of chilies. The acreage is about the same as was signed up last year in the early part of the season. However, there was failure on the part of the farmers to give proper attention to the cultivation of the crops, with a consequent shortage in yield. This season the California Packing Corporation has guarded against a repetition of this condition by securing the I. M. Von Schrittz ranch under lease and sub-leasing the lands.

The corporation wants about 700 acres of tomatoes in this section for the coming season, and is offering to contract at $45 per ton f.o.b. Santa Ana, with boxes furnished. The tomatoes will be shipped to Los Angeles for canning.

R. H. McIntosh, field manager for the corporation, was here from Los Angeles today looking the field over and getting in touch with possible growers of the product.

The local cannery last season packed 70,000 cases and to date has shipped out about 60,000 cases. Orders for five carloads for shipment to New York are being held up now because of the congested condition of the railroads. It is expected that the remaining 10,000 cases will be shipped out by the first of March.

Chas. Morris, bean buyer for the corporation, has moved his office to the cannery and has closed his up-town office. Consolidation of the offices will expedite the handling of the business of the big concern.

SENIORS PLEASE STUDENTS AT ASSEMBLY

Varied Program Put On by Upper Class Gives Spice to Weekly Affair

The eighteenth of Poly showed the other classes the best time they've had in a long time, at their special assembly Friday. The seniors came attired as Red Cross nurses and soldiers, with their colors, yellow and white, upon their arms.

The auditorium was resplendent with glorious yellow and white, the class colors. The program put on had the snap and pep high school students like to see. Pretty girls combined with snappy music can't be equalled for pleasing an audience.

HUNTINGTON BEACH DEDICATE FLAG FOR BEACH MEN IN U. S. SERVICE

Twenty-one Stars Placed On Field of White Honoring Those Gone to War

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 28.—Patriotic exercises were held at the high school Thursday afternoon at which their service flag was dedicated. The flag has twenty-one stars, including two from the faculty. The names of those represented on the flag are as follows: Leon Olds and Ray Walker of the faculty; George McCrimble, William Kesman, Albert Isner, Ralph Thompson, Melon Buster, Carroll Byram, Dell Mitchell, Ray Shaffer, George Gohard, Heath Schmitzer, Ralph Mallett, Walter Graham, Henry Brooke, Forest Turner, Lewis Blodgett, Ward Blodgett, Glen Cole, Paul Helme, and John French.

The exercises were opened with prayer by Rev. R. I. McKee; song, "America," patriotic reading, Miss Ritchey; song by Glee Club, followed by an address by Prof. Harold F. Humbert, head of the public speaking department of Pomona College. His subject was "Duty of Working Out Democracy," which was very ably delivered and enthusiastically received. Then followed a song by Marie Frenger, a talk by Clyde Wardman, and the reading of the names of the boys in the service.

A grand salute was given by the student body to the new flag recently placed in the study hall, and the exercises closed with the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner." There was a very large attendance from the patrons of the school and many from the grammar school.

The high school has a new Victrola, purchased in Santa Ana last week.

Mrs. Stearns Dead
Mrs. L. W. Stearns died Wednesday and was buried Friday from the M. E. Church, Rev. R. I. McKee, Rev. W. S. Miller and Rev. Meade officiating. Mrs. Stearns was born July 13, 1839. She was the last of thirteen children.

She was married in 1855 and raised a large family. The family lived in Minnesota from 1860 until they came to Redlands, Cal., in 1902, moving to Huntington Beach in 1907, where Mrs. Stearns had lived since. Five of her children were present at the funeral. One lives in Washington and one in the East, three having died in infancy. Mr. Stearns was able to attend the funeral although he has been in poor health for some time, being nearly ninety years of age. Mrs. Stearns was buried at the local cemetery.

Physical Examinations
The grammar school board recently passed a resolution making physical exercise obligatory in the school unless the child is physically unfit. The last legislature passed a law to that effect, and every pupil will be given an examination blank which asks for age, weight, height, expansion, condition of nose, throat, heart, eyes, teeth, ears, etc. This blank is to be taken to the family physician, and if they have no family physician then the board will provide one. The clothing of the girls need not be removed.

This medical examination is not forced upon any one and the parents or guardian may object and file such objection with the board. This law no doubt has its merits and demerits, but we cannot discuss them here.

The rain that blew in from the ocean Monday evening left .97 of an inch at this place, according to the Holy Sugar Company's gauge.

The contemplated Produce Association is well under way under the supervision of the Chamber of Commerce. The committee having it in charge made report last evening at the regular monthly meeting, and everything looks favorable for a complete organization in the near future.

All those who contemplate making entries at the Poultry Show should bring in the birds Thursday forenoon, January 31st.

Rev. W. L. Miller and wife of Inglewood attended the funeral of Mrs. L. W. Stearns Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Davis of Torrance were in the city Thursday on business.

The Huntington Beach High School alumni will hold their annual meeting at the home of V. B. Brown, Friday evening, February 1.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Griffith and daughter Lucile spent the week end at their cottage in Sierra Madre.

Choir practice at the M. E. Church Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock; Ralph C. Turner, director.

The M. E. Sunday school board will hold a regular monthly meeting at the church February 6 at 6:30 p. m., when a social dinner will be served by the superintendents of the different departments.

LOW DEATH RATE RECORD SHOWN HERE 1917

Total of 192 Pass Away During Year as Evidenced in Statistics

A total of 192 deaths occurred in Santa Ana during the year 1917, according to records made for submission to the Government in connection with statistics as to health and water conditions in this city. The report was made at the request of officials who have come here to inspect sites offered for an aviation camp. It was compiled by Miss Kate Owen, deputy city clerk, from the records filed with the city clerk.

The record is a fine one. The number of deaths and causes are as follows:

Senility, 8; surgical shock, 1; cerebral hemorrhage, 12; apoplexy, 11; la grippe, 4; anemia, 5; meningitis, 10; tuberculosis, 13; septicemia, 3; paralysis, 4; pyemia, 1; pneumonia, 12; valvular heart disease, 17; endocarditis, 1; tetanus, 3; enteric colitis, 2; embolism, 1; atelectasis, 1; epilepsy, 1; arterio sclerosis, 5; angina pectoris, 3; hereditary lues, 1; neuritis, 1; mitral regurgitation, 2; accidental, 9; still-born, 12; peritonitis, 3; diabetes, 5; Adams-Stokes syndrome, 1; gangrene, 1; gastritis, 9; asthma, 3; appendicitis, 1; intestinal intoxication, 1; sepsis, 1; nephritis, 4; bronchitis, 6; cancer, 12; suicide, 1; homicide, 1.

HAPPY WORKERS HAVE PLEASANT MEETING

Thrift Stamp Campaign Carried to Westminster School

WESTMINSTER, Jan. 26.—The Happy Workers met Wednesday with the Garden Grove section, at the home of Mrs. Vienna Donelson, with a good attendance. Many of those present were engaged in knitting for the Red Cross work. The suggestion was made that the local Red Cross be asked to start a class in knitting. At the business session it was decided to assume the yearly payment to the board of church erection, which is $60, besides making some improvements in the church.

A dainty lunch was served consisting of creamed potatoes, tomato pie, salad, steamed brown bread, butter, jelly, coffee, apple pie and cheese.

A good beginning in the sale of Thrift Stamps was made at the school on Wednesday, the amount being $12.

Wednesday morning was unusually cold, outside faucets being frozen and ice was formed in many places, but people were not surprised at the cold weather when they learned of the arrival of the first snow of the season the night before, in the person of little Miss Snow, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Snow.

J. Y. Anderson of Los Angeles, came Saturday for a visit at the home of H. B. Anderson.

Fred Parr, who was operated on for appendicitis at the Santa Ana Hospital last week, is getting along very nicely.

Elmer Fowler was a Los Angeles visitor Monday and on Wednesday left for Antelope Valley.

W. B. McCoy is having trouble with his eyes again, on account of working out in the dust and wind of Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Marcella Ufford of Huntington Beach, a former resident of this place, was married last week (Wednesday) to Clyde Preston of Wintersburg, at the home of her brother, Kenneth Ufford, at Long Beach. They will make their home in Oregon.

Mrs. L. D. Toogood and Miss Ellice Toogood were Los Angeles visitors Monday.

Mrs. Clyde Day and baby daughter returned home from the hospital at Garden Grove Tuesday.

Dr. E. S. Reed and family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Deihl of Santa Ana on Sunday. Mrs. Reed and Miss Frances Reed remaining till Tuesday.

Miss Mary Francis returned to steady work at Gilbert's in Santa Ana Monday, after three weeks' vacation. She was a guest from Wednesday till Friday of her friend, Mrs. Ernest Smith, in Garden Grove.

Mrs. Beaver, who suffered a broken kneecap in an auto collision, is getting along nicely and expects to soon be able to return home.

Mrs. Zylpha Williams of Orange, is visiting this week at the home of her brother, Orvil Day.

Mr. S. Dickey, who has been in Corona the past three weeks looking after his bees, returned home on Saturday.

B. Anderson and family have been having a stage of the grip.

E. Harding of Tucson, Ariz., visited Friday with W. B. McCoy and family. Mr. Harding is a cousin of Mrs. McCoy.

About twenty head of horses broke out of George Wright's pasture Tuesday and came through town. On being driven back to the pasture it was found the band had stampeded six horses in their run. One of these was the one used by Rev. W. T. Wardle, who followed them up and brought it back. The same day fifty or more head of stock broke out of the Reuther yards, a mile south of town, but were driven back by the neighbors, in the absence of the caretaker, before they had time to go far.

Mrs. Nannie Gibbons and her mother, Mrs. Williams, had an unexpected guest Sunday. Mrs. Williams' cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Stroud, of Portland, Ore., Ed Perry of Los Angeles, also Mrs. John Francis and son, Irvin Francis, and daughter, Miss Lenore Francis, and Mr. and Mrs. Will Randebaug of Flagstaff, Ariz. Irvin Francis, who is sergeant in the heavy artillery, will shortly leave for France.

Mrs. George Waters and son, Lester Waters, who have been away for a month, returned last week.

Dennis and Lloyd Dillon, who at one time lived here with their parents on the place now owned by James Kerr, but recently residents of Compton, are with the heavy artillery at Fort McArthur. Dennis is a corporal.

Miss Cora Fowler went to Los Angeles Friday, returning Sunday.

Mrs. Morrie Terry has been quite sick with the grip.

As W. T. Newland was passing the residence of W. J. Edwards, going south, another machine, going at a good rate of speed, tried to pass him. To avoid a collision, he turned off to one side of the road as another machine was coming from the south.

The ditch being somewhat deeper than was anticipated, part of the front spring of Newland's machine was broken. A passing truck pulled the machine from the ditch and it was towed home by another machine. The machine which passed, kept right on without stopping to help.

The owner of the place farmed by George Kuwata has ordered the old gum grove dug out. Mexicans are doing the work for $7.50 per cord.

Mrs. Alice Hare and her staff of officers conducted the installation ceremony of the Rebekah lodge at Anaheim Friday night, at the local lodge Tuesday night and at the Torosa lodge, Santa Ana, on Wednesday night. The local lodge served refreshments of sandwiches, coffee and cake after the installation.

Stroud & Noff of Artesia, are hauling manure from the Reuther stock yards to the orange groves of Fuller, ton and Anaheim. They haul two loads a day and sell it at six and a half cents per cubic foot.

Mrs. W. J. Edwards, Mrs. Ben Craig, Mrs. Bessie Harvey and Mrs. Phil McClintock motored to Anaheim Tuesday, calling on Mrs. Charles Fisher, and returning by way of Santa Ana, where Mrs. Harvey remained till Wednesday for a visit with friends.

Bryce and Wallace McCoy have been on the sick list this week.

PACIFIC AT ANAHEIM, TO HAVE NEW MANAGER

ANAHEIM, Jan. 28.—Earl R. Abbey will assume management of the local Pacific Telephone office of the first of next month. Since the resignation of Manager George Wente the telephone company has been looking over the field for a live wire to take charge of their business here and selected Mr. Abbey as the best man for the position.

Mr. Abbey has leased his half-interest in the print shop to his partner, F. A. Chamberlain, and will spend his time building up the business of the telephone company.

In the selection of Mr. Abbey, the Pacific company has been most fortunate, as he is one of the most popular and progressive young men in our city. He has been with the company in former years and they know his worth.

PASTOR IN TILT WITH RED CROSS

Aftermath of the Biederwolf Incident at Long Beach

LONG BEACH, Jan. 28.—Officers of the local chapter of the American Red Cross Saturday charged the Rev. J. A. Geissinger, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, with thwarting their work and placing himself in opposition to the United States Government by starting a private move to furnish comfort kits to soldiers.

Stating that the minister had refused to assist even when they told him his efforts ran counter to the expressed wishes of President Wilson, Secretary Daniels and Secretary Baker, the Red Cross officers announced that the matter will be presented next Friday to the Long Beach chapter's board of directors.

Dr. Geissinger declared Saturday night that personal animus was responsible for the Red Cross officers' criticism of him. He said that he had undertaken to supply the comfort kits at the request of Chaplain Herschel Griffin at Fort MacArthur. The clergyman asserted the animosity against him had been carried to the extent of Red Cross uniforms being refused his church for a service held yesterday evening.

Dr. Lewis P. Crutcher is president of the chapter and Mrs. A. L. Campbell the secretary. The other directors are Mrs. C. H. Spence, Louis N. Wheaton, D. M. Shreve, E. E. Norton, Mrs. W. C. Foley, R. Lee Wilson, Mrs. M. A. Healey and Mrs. Irwin R. Hall. It was intimated by several of them that a resolution condemning Dr. Geissinger's conduct will be introduced at the board's meeting. A request for the Federal authorities to intervene is also contemplated.

The clergyman's congregation has provided 900 kits and is now collecting the money with which to fill the kits with comforts. The plan is to present them to the men at Fort MacArthur.

CITY POLITICS BE HUMMING SOON AT BEACH

Huntington Beach City Trustees and Other Officers to Be Elected

Huntington Beach News: There will be several elections held during the calendar year of 1918, and every voter who desires to participate in the privilege of exercising the right of franchise on these important occasions must register.

The ball will be opened up on Friday afternoon, April 8, when there will be an election to fill two vacancies on the high school board and one on the grammar school board.

The term of Dr. S. G. Huff, president of the high school board, and W. T. Newland will expire. The term of Mrs. W. T. Newland, member of the grammar school board, will expire in April.

The next round will occur April 8, when the city election will be held. There will be three trustees, treasurer and clerk to elect. The terms of Trustees Tarbox, Huston and Yarra will expire, as will that of City Clerk Charles R. Nutt and City Treasurer C. E. Laverling.

So far as known, few candidates have been mentioned for any of these positions, and none of the incumbents are seeking re-election. However, most of them will accept the office they are now holding if the voters desire to re-elect them.

The only one of the city officials that has positively declined to accept office again under any circumstances is Will Tarbox, chairman of the board of city trustees. Trustee Tarbox states that there is no use for anyone to consider voting for him, because he will not serve another term. There is no doubt about the friends of Mr. Tarbox being numerous enough to elect him by a large majority if he would accept the honor again.

All of the others have a large following of friends who will be glad to work for their re-election, and it is believed that most of them will accept another term.

It is likely that the next election will then be that of one submitting the proposition of voting bonds for the improvement of Newport harbor.

Then will follow the primary for the selection of candidates for state, county and township officers. This will take place August 27, and the election will follow on November 5.

The last legislature passed a law covering school elections, and this year regular ballots will be provided by County Superintendent R. P. Mitchell, and candidates must file their intention with the clerk of the school board five days prior to the election so that his name may appear on the official ballot.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT

GIRL, 13, ELOPES
MAN CHARGED WITH THEFT
OF CHILD

They Came By Jitney to Santa Ana, and Are Not to Be Found

This morning a warrant was issued for the arrest of Martin Miles, a chauffeur, on a charge of child theft. The father of Mary Lobo, aged 13, of San Juan Capistrano, told District Attorney West that Miles and the girl eloped yesterday morning.

Alfonso Lobo, member of a pioneer family in the mission valley, appeared at the district attorney's office this morning, and upon his statement of the situation a warrant was issued. Lobo said that Miles has been driving a machine for a resident of the San Juan Capistrano section for some time. Recently he has been paying attentions to Lobo's daughter, who is only 13 years of age but well developed for her age.

The father said that he had learned that Miles and the girl came together to Santa Ana yesterday in a stage. Where they went after arriving in Santa Ana is not known. Lobo is rather of the opinion that the couple would go to Calexico.

Blames the Rain

S. Aihara, Japanese farmer south of Garden Grove, was before Justice Cox this morning on a charge of selling water-soaked chili peppers to a West Anaheim dealer. Aihara pleaded not guilty to the charge and his trial was set for February 13 at 2 p. m. Aihara said that it might be that the peppers were soaked. However, he had not wet them for the purpose of making them heavier. It just happened that there was a rain a couple of weeks ago, and these peppers must have gotten wet in that rain.

ANAHEIM RESIDENCE
ENTERED BY BURGLAR

Deputy Sheriff Maxwell went to Anaheim to investigate the burglary of the home of E. J. Horsley, 625 West Broadway, Anaheim, Saturday night. The thief used a pass key. He carried away a gold wrist watch, a diamond ring, a signet ring, a pearl ring, a la valier and a 32-caliber revolver.

ALAMEDA SCHOOL MAN
GETS "T. N. T." NOTE

OAKLAND, Cal., Jan. 28.—Superintendent of Schools George W. Frick of Alameda county is the latest person to receive a "T. N. T." note as a result of his patriotic activities, it was learned today.

His action of last week directing teachers to place the teaching of patriotism above everything else in the schools brought forth a letter from the "People's committee on moral uplift" declaring he had been placed on the "visiting list" of the "committee" and warned him that "some stirring events" could be expected.

ARBUCKLE FREE

In Signed Statement Says Horkheimer Has No Contract With Him

Long Beach, Cal., Jan. 26, 1918. Statement to whom it may concern: We have no contract with H. M. Horkheimer or any other individual or corporation binding us to a studio location.

We have no connection with the Balboa company. We simply rent studio space for a stated weekly sum.

Our pictures are distributed to the various exhibitors throughout the country by the Paramount Pictures Corporation, the largest distributing organization in the world.

The Comique Film Corporation, of which Mr. Joseph M. Schenck is president and Mr. Roscoe Arbuckle is vice-president, is the only company that has the sole right to the manufacture of "Fatty" Arbuckle comedies. (Signed) ROSCOE ARBUCKLE.

The above article signed by "Fatty" Arbuckle was received by the Register this morning and should settle the question as to whether Arbuckle is tied up with a lease. Horkheimer has made statements that Arbuckle had his studio at Long Beach under lease and could not move to Santa Ana if he wanted to, should Santa Ana decide to build a studio for him.

Lou Anger, Arbuckle's business manager, will be here Wednesday afternoon with a concrete proposition to submit to the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce in discussion with reference to this city locating an Arbuckle studio. The meeting will be held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms at 1:30 o'clock.

Mystery As to Whether Officers Were Investigating
Proposed Camp Sites

Whether two army men in an aeroplane that passed over this city this forenoon were making observations of sites proposed for an aviation camp and testing the air currents in this vicinity, or whether they were on a casual trip from San Diego to Riverside is not known.

The plane landed in a field belonging to the Santa Ana Sugar Company and a few hundred yards east of the factory. Lieut. Mairesse, a French officer, was in charge of the plane.

When the plane descended a large number of people in the vicinity went over to the field. Among those going over were employees of the Santa Ana Sugar Company. All were inquisitive and to various queries the lieutenant replied, among other things, that he and his companion were on their way from San Diego to Riverside. Engine trouble had developed and it became necessary to land. After repairing the trouble the flight was continued and the last seen of the plane it was headed in the direction of Riverside.

Aviation officers are not given to telling all they know and have been known to prevaricate when it became necessary to do so in order to shield army activities.

The fact that Captain Boyriven, of the French Flying Corps, when here Friday afternoon with the commission selecting the aviation camp sites in Southern California, stated that observations of the site from an aeroplane would be made, convinces many that the aviators here this forenoon were here for the purpose of getting a view of the sites from an elevation.

AT THE COURTHOUSE

WEST'S RULING
SAYS KEYES IS NOT INSANE

Mother of Accused Man Said Son's Head Hurt When 14 Years Old

This afternoon Judge West ruled that Edward Keyes is sane. He denied the petition of Ingle Carpenter, attorney for the accused murderer of 11-year-old Leonard Herwick, asking for the appointment of a lunacy commission.

Judge West had before him the testimony that was taken in Los Angeles on August 10, 1916, when the superior court there committed Keyes to the insane asylum at Patton. In that testimony was the statement of Mrs. Martha De Turk, mother of Keyes, in which she said that her son was an unusually bright boy until he was 14 years old, at which time he was thrown from a horse on to a pile of rocks. His head was injured, and she said that thereafter his mind was that of a small child.

"I have before me the affidavit of the attorney for the defendant," said Judge West. "That affidavit states that Edward Keyes was discharged from the asylum on July 30, 1917, but it evades saying whether or not Keyes was discharged as cured. The district attorney has produced affidavits declaring Keyes to be sane, and showing that when he was discharged from Patton he was discharged as recovered. I have no idea other than that Keyes is sane. He is not entitled to a lunacy commission." Keyes was brought into court, and was present during the proceedings. Among witnesses to be summoned for the defendant is Superintendent

TRY 'CASCARETS' FOR LIVER AND BOWELS
IF SICK OR BILIOUS

Tonight! Clean Your Bowels and Stop Headache, Colds, Sour Stomach

Get a 10-cent box now. Turn the rascals out—the headache, biliousness, indigestion, the sick, sour stomach and bad colds—turn them out tonight and keep them out with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels, or an upset stomach.

Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets cleanse your stomach; remove the sour, fermenting food; take the excess bile from your liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascaret tonight straightens you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from any drug store means a clear head, sweet stomach and clean, healthy liver and bowel action for months. Children love Cascarets because they never get or sicken. Adv.

RANSACKS HOME
WHILE FAMILY
WAS AWAY

Byron Johnson Residence on North Broadway Robbed Last Night

While Byron E. Johnson and family were out automobile riding yesterday afternoon and passing the evening with friends last night, someone enjoyed himself for a few moments in rummaging through their home at 2122 North Broadway, looking for valuables. This fact was discovered by the family when it returned home last evening about 9 o'clock.

So far as could be determined, the thief was rewarded with one gray suit of clothes, a Smith & Wesson revolver and one gold band ring.

The screen door to the back porch was left unlatched and it is presumed the thief got into the screen porch and opened the back door to the house with a skeleton key.

Burnt matches found on the floor of one of the rooms indicated that the burglar operated after dark. City Marshal Jernigan and Night Officer Boynton investigated.
